

Janet Mayer

Janet Mayer resides in St. Louis, Missouri and has a private practice conducting Psychic/Mediumship readings. She receives information of past, present and future, as the Spirit world has no time.

Having had these abilities since childhood, Janet struggled to make sense out of the many images she received, eventually leading her to The Human Energy Systems Laboratory at the University of Arizona and Gary Schwartz Ph.D., where she participated in four years of research. This same program later became known as the Veritas Research Program.

She additionally spent four years searching for answers about a language she spontaneously began speaking while in attendance at a Holotropic Breathwork seminar created by Stanislav and Christina Grof. She then began working with Dr. Bernardo Piexoto, who works at the Smithsonian Institute. He successfully translated the tapes she recorded channeling in the languages of Yanomani, Fulnio, Tucano, and the latest, Canamari, all languages from South America. These languages have continued to emerge over the past 14 years.
