

Lynn LeClere

Lynn LeClere is a third generation Spiritual Medium; her parents and each of their parents had psychic abilities. Lynn prides herself in helping to bring comfort to those in grief, as she specializes in bereavement counseling as part of her work with spirit.

Shortly after the passing of her great grandmother, Lynn began to realize her abilities as a medium. Although she did not fully understand it, with the help and guidance of her loving family, her deep faith, and her guardian angels, she was able to embrace her budding mediumship at the young age of just five years old.

In Lynn's own words, she describes her growth, "I started to see messages and communicate with those who had passed on to another place. It wasn't until I was in high school that I realized what my abilities could offer to others. I slowly began to develop my gift by reading close friends and family. In my early twenties, I was giving facials out of my home and could not help but to deliver the messages given to me by the spirits connected to my clients. At twenty-five I had fully developed my gift and understood my purpose was to be the voice for these spirits."

Through word of mouth, Lynn began to give private readings both in person and over the phone. As a single mother of three, where time is sometimes an issue, Lynn can still schedule readings for small parties and as well as larger group style readings.

Lynn encourages her clients to record the reading and replay it at a later time, as she says, "It will help you to realize the meaning and significance of your message. It sometimes contains information pertaining to a close friend or relative that you may not connect it with at that time."

Lynn was among the first wave of mediums who came to Forever Family Foundation seeking certification in an effort to validate the reality of the work that she does. She can be reached by phone at 516-484-6049.
