

Dianne Arcangel, M.S. Biography

Dianne Arcangel is a former hospice chaplain, psychiatric hospital therapist, and Director of the Elisabeth Kubler-Ross Center of Houston. She served on the executive board of directors at the National Institute for Discovery Science and the Rhine Research Center, where she also lead trainings and conducted research.

As an international spokesperson on the topics of death, dying, grief, and afterlife science, Dianne has appeared in documentaries (NBC's "Ancient Prophecies", NBC's "Sci-Fi Investigates", CBC's "Man Alive", The Learning Channel's "Afterlife Series", etc.), as a talk-show panelist (Oprah, Geraldo, Rolanda, Sally, etc.), and in countless televised and radio interviews.

She is the author of Afterlife Encounters: Ordinary People, Extraordinary Experiences, as well as Life After Loss and many journal articles. Dianne currently conducts survival research through the University of Virginia and independently. She serves as the President for the Forever Family Foundation and staff for the Edgebrook Center.

AFFILIATIONS: International Assoc. of Suicidology and Prevention, American Assoc. of Suicidology, Assoc. for Death Education and Counseling, the Society for Psychical Research, Forever Family Foundation, and Rhine Research Center.